R. C. Wyllie Esq.
Minister of Foreign Relations

Dear Sir, Obliged for your confidence in submitting to me for perusal Monsieur Dillon's despatch of 7th instant, in relation to complaints he has heretofore made against the Collector General of Customs. I return it with an expression of my unsolicited opinion, that it wants no reply, until the offensive language aimed at the Minister of Publick Instruction (who is in no way implicated in the matter in controversy) has been withdrawn. Though representatives of Foreign Governments, according to their rank and powers, are in some respects privileged persons, it is not one of their privileges in their official correspondence to calumniate and abuses the head of a department against which they have made no complaints.

Respectfully your ob'ts (signed) Asher. B. Bates.

A mênêia Ka manao o
Tom L. Lee, aua i hoapuka mai ai no ua palapala hookahi no.

May it please your Majesty.

I should not presume to give you my opinion upon so grave a matter as the proposition to break off all correspondence with the Representative of the French Republic, until after I had fully heard the opinions of the older and wiser members of your Privy Council, and until after I had given the subject more reflection, were it not, that I have been strongly urged so to do, by my seniors and by the apparent necessity of an immediate disposition of this serious subject.

The natural impulse of my mind and feelings upon the spur of the occasion, I can give you; but I will not vouch for their wisdom. The natural impulse of my mind would be to refuse all official intercourse with M. Dillon until he withdraws the virulent, or to say the least, the very ungentlemanly attack he has made upon your Minister of Public Instruction and through him upon your Majesty and all connected with you in the administration of this humble yet independent Government. I say this is my impulsive mind, because, as I read his attack, it is a blow aimed, not at Mr. Armstrong alone, but at the head and heart of your Majesty. It ascribes to you, as the executive and Sovereign ruler of an independent nation, motives in the appointment of Mr. Armstrong to his office which would be as base and dishonorable to you as a man, as they would be wicked in you as a King. Viewing the thing in this light, I repeat to you that it is my impulsive ~~feeling~~ opinion that the propositions to break off correspondence with the Representative of France, would be right, and if right, then as a consequence it would be wise. No one can regret more deeply than I do, the necessity of such a step, but I think it is due not to Mr. Armstrong alone, but to yourself. This is the straight of the moment; and I cannot say that upon more mature reflection I might not be led to modify or altogether change it.

In all my intercourse with Mr Armstrong, both public and private, I have always found him exceedingly liberal in his religious principles, and deeply sensible of the duty he owed to you and this people, in pursuing a course of the strictest impartiality between all religious sects. In truth he has always expressed himself to me as being desirous of showing the greatest favor to the Catholics of your Kingdom, in order that if ever he was guilty of the least partiality, it should be in favor of that denominations of Christians, and against his own persuasions. From my knowledge of the man, I am confident he has pursued the course he marked out for himself; and if so, how uncharitable and uncalled for the present attack!

He kuhelu o Nyllie i ka mea ana i manao ai a palapala aku ia'u billeu no kona mau palapala. Ka la 26 Sepatemaba, 2 oka, a me 7 oka.

Resolved that the demand of M. Dillon, the Consul of France, for the repeal of the law of the 6th June last, rendering it imperative on the Captains and Supercargoes of all vessels of every nation, to present their Manifests and Entries at the Custom-house in the Hawaiian or English languages, is inconsistent with the Sovereignty of this Kingdom in the free exercise of its independent legislation, inconsistent with the interest, well understood, of French merchants themselves, and therefore is refused.

2.nd

Resolved that M. Dillon's attacks on the King's Ministers of Public Instruction, while he is absent, is a disrespect to the King and an injustice to Mr. Armstrong, which was not expected of the Consul of a nation so polite and refined as the French nation.

3.rd

Resolved that the Minister of Foreign Relations, be, and he is hereby instructed, to request Mr. Dillon to withdraw the offensive and insulting language in his letter of the 7th Oct, attacking the Ministers of Public Instruction, and imputing dishonorable motives to the King in his appointment, and if Mr. Dillon refuses to withdraw it to reprimand to him Mr Wyllis despatch

No 2 e of 12 th. May, and complains to the French Gouvernment, taking care to refute the fallacies of M. Dillons aforesaid letter of the 7 th October; But if Mr Dillon withdraw that paragraph Mr. Boyllie is instructed to answer fully the other point of M Dillons letters of the 2 nd and 7 th October.

4 th

Resolved that agreeably to the Kings order of the 2 nd Sept 1845. and in justice to the Department of Finance, so unjustly accused by M. Dillon, the whole correspondence be published, so soon as it is completed, in a pamphlet form, and copies sent to all the Foreign Representatives and consuls residing at this Court, to all the Kings Agents residing abroad and to Real Admiral de Hamelin.

5 th

Resolved that the dispatches of Mr Dillon of the 26 th Sept. 2 nd and 7 th Oct, are so drawn up as if uncontradicted, greatly to damage this Government, in the opinion of France and of the World, and have been listened to with much displeasure.

6th

Resolved that in the use of these resolutions as the Minister of Foreign Relations may find necessary for the honor and safety of the Government, he is exempted from the oath of secrecy, in regard to the proceedings of this council, administered on the 1st of September 1848.

Resolved that the Minister of Foreign Relations is commanded by the King to inform Anthony Ten Eyck Esquire, Commissioner &c in United States, that His Majesty in the exercise of a prerogative, clearly belonging to him as Sovereign, has seen fit on grounds and for reasons to be made known to the Government of the United States, to order all Departments of His Majesty's Government to cease from the date of Mr. Wyllie's dispatch transmitting these Resolutions all official correspondence with Mr. Lee Yeek, as such Commissioner, but still so long as he remains on the Islands to treat him with all personal respect; The Minister of Foreign Relations is further commanded to send a copy of this resolution to the Consul of the United States, that that gentleman may in his discretion adopt what measures he may think proper, to prevent the rights and interests of American citizens, pending the appeal thus made to the Government of the United States from being neglected or sustaining injury; and said Minister is further commanded to communicate copy of this Resolution, by circular, to all the Foreign Representatives and consuls residing near this Court, with a request that they ~~submit~~ transmit copy to their respective Governments:

Mr Wyllie remarked that agreeably with the command laid upon him he had passed his No 76 of the 14th instant with three enclosures; to Mr Jen Eyck with a letter in His Majesty's name embodying the three resolutions passed on the 11th. It was sent on the same day as the reply to the Foreign Representatives of which His Majesty had approved. He also addressed Mr Parrill informing him of what had been done.

Mr Wyllie then read
Mr Jen Eyck's letter to Wyllie No 79 15th Dec.

Resolved, That Mr Wyllie be empowered to grant Mr Jen Eyck's request in regard to printing his No 79 and that Mr Lyttle further print his seperate despatch of the 5th Decr and whatever he may consider proper and fair upon both sides.

Mr Lyttle then read

Resolved, That considering the great importance of the correspondence submitted by Mr Lyllie, when the language used by the Council of Trade before the King on the 13th is remembered, the whole documents be submitted to Chief Justice Lee with right to consult others, if necessity for so doing may appear.

The King was pleased to approve of the corrections which Mr Dillon and Lord Miller wished to be made in the copies of the addresses made by them respectively on the 13th instant.

Resolved That the Minister of Foreign Relations, be instructed to prepare replies to the separate addresses of the Foreign Representatives made by them in English on the 13th to the King, and interpreted from that language to the King, and submit Drafts thereof to him for His Majesty's approval.

Resolved, That in consideration of the great distress of the Hon^ble Farrin Andrews, the Minister of Finance is hereby authorized to loan the said Andrews the sum of Two thousand and five hundred Dollars or such other sum within that amount as he may be able to spare from the Treasury upon such terms and conditions as in the opinion of the Minister of Finance may be for the best interest of the government and just to the said Andrews.

Resolved, That the following persons be appointed school inspectors. Warren Goodale for the 1st Division of Oahu; L. Kuula, 2nd Division of Hawaii; Kameamea 1st Division of Maui: Konapalaka 1st Division of Oahu.

Resolved, That Kapeaalea be paid for the time he has acted as assistant to Kapeau the Governor of Hawaii at the rate of Four hundred Dollars per annum.

Mr. Wyllie then stated that he had papers to M. Dillon Mr. Armstrong's instructions to the School instructors together with that gentlemans' letter to him and his (Wyllie) reply. All was in vain however, M. Dillon had not withdrawn his objectionable paragraph about Mr. Armstrong but had gone so far as to state in language not to be misunderstood that he (Wyllie) was a secret agent of a foreign government to injure the government of Hawaii.

He read the following letters;

Mr Judd made some explanations about his having informed Mr. Wyllie at the earliest moment of what Mr Dillon has said.

Resolved, That in view of the evidence of Mr Jarrett contained in an extract submitted to this council, the boats containing the body of the letter to which it refers be laid before this council.

Mr Wyllie read his proposed answer to Mr. Dillon on the part of the King to his ~~separate~~ address of the 13th.

Mr Wyllie wished to know of Mr Lee whether any other course recommended itself to his judgment in view of the law of nations. If the thing were pressed over Mr Jen Eyck might make a very plausible charge of unfairness in dealing towards America.

Mr Lee says there was no question about the King's right to forbid Mr Dillon's presence at his court. It was the course pursued by every sovereign to a man who has acted as Dillon has done. But whether it would be wise to demand M. Dillon's recall and forbid his presence was a question he was not prepared to answer. He thought the wisest course would be to answer the demand of M. Dillon and state that the whole matter would be laid before the French Government, for them to take action on. There was a good deal in what Mr Wyllie said about Mr Len Speltz, but he felt loth to cut off two men in so short a time.

Mr Judd read M. Dillon's letter to him of the 11th August.

Mr Wyllie wished all the documents alluded to in that letter to be brought forward, and a copy of the letter itself handed to him by Mr Judd.

Mr Lee moved in regard to Mr Wyllie's prepared reply to M. Dillon before spoken of, that the words in the last paragraph but one after 'Republic' be erased; the last paragraph to stand, and the reply then sanctioned.

It was voted accordingly.

It was also voted that Mr Wyllie's prepared answer to the British Consul General be and is sanctioned.

Resolved, That the answer prepared by Mr Wyllie for the King to Mr Jas Eyerd's separate address, and directed to Mr Consul Sewell be sanctioned.

Mr Wyllie then read

Mr Wyllie private letter to M. Dillon

Sewell's note to Mr Wyllie 19th Dec.

The King ordered Mr Armstrong to furnish Mr Wyllie, the Min. of Foreign Relations, with copies of the correspondence of the Abbé Desvaux in 1849 and any explanations in writing; and with all documents thereto appertaining, relating to his interview with Mr Dillon to obtain his testimony in Missionary favor to be used abroad.

Resolved, That having again read and considered the paragraph in Mr Dillons letter of the 7th October, formerly considered at the Privy Council of the 17th of that month and 9th of Nov., in connection with the legal opinions on which the resolution was passed, ordering Mr Wyllie to request Mr Dillon to withdraw that paragraph, and in connexion with the unwillingness of Mr. Dillon to withdraw that paragraph, as evidenced in his subsequent correspondence, the Minister of Foreign Relations be and is hereby ordered to intimate to the Consul of France, that the paragraph in question cannot now be withdrawn, but will be submitted to the notice of the proper department of the French Republic.

Resolved, That Mr. Wyllie is hereby empowered hereby to Mr Dillon's demand for a repeal of the law of the 6th June 1847, requiring all invoices to be presented at the Custom-house to be made out in the Hawaiian or English language, by informing him that his demand cannot be granted. On the ground that as a sovereign state this nation has the right to enact such law, the same interfering with no treaty stipulations, and on any other grounds that to the Minister of Foreign Relations may seem proper.

Resolved, That the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby instructed to reply to M. Dillon, so far as relates to the withdrawal of his unjust attacks upon the Minister of Public Instruction, and the motives of the King in appointing him, by informing the Consul of France, that no "explanation" of his violent language is desired, the meaning of the same being too plain to be mistaken: and further that as he declines a withdrawal of the offensive words, to inform him that the matter will be represented to the French Government.

Resolved, That the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby instructed to reply to M. Dillon's demand that French whaleships be exempted from all port charges even though they trade in wines and spirits, by declining to accede to the same, upon the ground that the law exempting whale ships from port charges upon certain conditions, is altogether a gratuity on the part of this Govt, having no relation to any Treaty stipulations; one which as a sovereign state this Government has a perfect right to enact, and which places every nation upon a perfect parity.

Resolved, That the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby instructed to reply to the demand of the Consul of France, that all duties levied by this Government, from the 6th April 1846, upon spirituous liquors, which exceed a certain rate to be agreed upon by arbitrators should be refunded etc:— by stating that this Government decline to grant his demand, upon the following grounds: 1st This Government have the right by virtue of the Treaty of March 26th 1846 to levy any duty upon spirituous liquors which shall not amount to a prohibition. 2nd Experience has clearly shown that the present duty is far from being a prohibitory one —.

Resolved, That the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby instructed to reply to the demand of the Consul of France respecting the whale ship 'General Leete' by declining to accede to the same —. Stating that this Government looks with equal surprise and regret upon the gravity with which so trivial and unfounded a demand is urged.

Resolved, That (Having great confidence in the justice and magnanimity of the Republic of France and of her consideration for neutral powers like this Kingdom) the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby instructed to represent all the unreasonable demands of M. Dillon and explain them, with other matters, to the French Government.

Resolved, That the Minister of Foreign Relations is empowered and instructed to make official use of and publish as may be necessary his dispatches to Rear Admiral Hamelin, Rear Admiral de Tromelin, admiral Bandin and Rear Admiral Thomas, and other document as may be necessary, in presenting M. Dillon's conduct fully to the Government of the French Republic.

Resolved, That M. Dillon's letter to Mr Judd of the 11th August, entered in Mr Judd's letter book, is indistinctly necessary to enable the French Government to judge of the conduct of

M. Dillon and that a copy be furnished to the Minister of Foreign Relations for the purposes of the proceedings.

The meeting then adjourned.

James Peacock was sworn by the Minister of the Interior and examined by Mr. Judd. Witness deposed that he had taken the oath of allegiance to the King. Through all the hostility shown by other parties he has always been true himself to the King and Government. When the money was offered him by Mr. Rogers to get the manuscript he at first refused and he took a day and night to consider of it; he wanted money to be sure, but he thought at the same time it was an act of duty. Finally he said he would furnish the Mss. but in that event he should be obliged to leave the country, that he had a few debts and no money to pay them or his passage. It is considered among printers a wrong thing to expose the secrets of the office; could not say whether Mr Judd knew that as well as he did. Has known instances in the United States where the public good has demanded the conventional rule of the printing office & in that particular to be foregone as in the present instance. He only wanted the money to place himself beyond the reach of the prosecution he expected would follow the step he was about to take.

was the principal workman in the 'News' office at the time. Did not sleep there. Had charge of most MSS. and when Mr. Rockwell was out had charge of everything. He did not break any lock or bolt for the purpose. Goldham scorned a bribe to commit burglary — was told by Mr Rogers that he might open a desk. The greater part of the document were in a cupboard fastened only by a small button. Had often thought he should like Government to know what was going on, before Mr Rogers spoke to him. Has set up a good deal of Mr Jen Eyck's manuscript in the 'Polynesian' Office, and when he was setting up the document in question behind it the Mr Jen Eyks MS. Alluded to the article purporting to come from California and containing some poetry, which appeared in No 3 of the present volume of the 'News'. The Saturday following he put away that copy in a chest with some others, distinct from the great body of the MS. Wilkes handed the document to Mr Judd, Mr Judd said at once, that is Mr Ten Eyck's hand-writing. Wilkes told Mr Judd at that time that the document had been brought in hurriedly, but they generally copied such articles before they gave them to the compositors. Printers are generally good judges of hand-writing, from being so accustomed to look at it peculiarities. Besides when Mr Judd asked him with regard to some manuscript who owned the writer and who the copyist he made some memoranda at bottom of some of them. Witness recognized the Manuscripts produced (in Privy Council) by Mr Ludd, and stated in several terms that they came from the 'News' Office and were given by him to Mr Judd. On the night before adjourned to Mr Judd gave it as his ~~opinion~~ opinion that Rockwell could not write all those severe articles; that they were too well written for him. Witness at the same time said he supposed Rockwell had edited some. Remarked that he has been him copying but he was very shy about it. The copy from which the article which appeared in No 51 of the 'News' 19th Oct 1868, was set up was in the handwriting of Mr Rockwell and the same as produced by Mr Judd in Privy Council.

(Document No 1 Privy Council 27th Decr 1848) The leading article in the 'News' No 1 of vol 3 of Novr 2. 2nd 1848 and produced by Mr Liddell in Privy Council is in the handwriting of Mr Rockwell: (Document No 2) The copy of the extract of a letter from San Francisco which appeared in the 'Sandwich Islands News' of the 5th Oct, was in a handwriting with which witness was not familiar. (Document No 3) The California letter which appeared in the same No under date Sept 10 appeared to have been written or copied by the same hand in pencil: did not know in whose hand the copy was. (Document No 4). The copy of the article commencing "The name of Jno Rickord" etc which appeared in the 'Sandwich Islands News' No 4 vol 3, Novr 23rd 1848 was in the handwriting of Jno Mann (Document No 5).

knows Munn's style of writing and does not think the article in question was his composition, it was corrected after it was set up by a man called Allen, who is a lawyer from New Brunswick. The copy of the 2nd leader in No 1 of the 'A. J Rev' of the present volume is in Mr Rockwell's writing (Doct 16). Witness is convinced that the 1st and 2nd leading articles in No 1, though the copy of both is in the handwriting of Mr Rockwell were not the composition of the same person. From the style of the 2nd article (Doct 6) should say it was Mr Lee Scott's composition. It was always witness's supposition that the first leader (Doct No 2) was the composition of M. Dillon. The copy of an article called a 'crumb of comfort' in Landmark Islands News No 1 present volume is in the handwriting of Mr Rockwell. It was also Rockwells composition, writing & writing it. (Doc[t] No 7). The copy of 5 paragraphs in No 1 of the present volume of the 'News' is in Rockwells handwriting and composed by him. (Doc[t] No 8). The portion of copy for the 1st leading article of the 'News' No 2 Nov[r] 9 is in the handwriting of Mr Rockwell. (Doc[t] No 9) Which it was the composition of the same party who wrote the 1st leader in No 1. The copy of the 2 documents marked No 10 are in the handwriting of Mr G. M. Robertson, one is signed 'Agnid' and the other 'Flagellator'. The latter was published in No 4 of 5th Oct, and the other in No 1 of Nov[r] 2nd. The copy of the letter signed  is in the handwriting of Palmer for a short time clerk to Paty the Lieutenant General. It appeared in No 46 (2 Oct 14) of the 'News' (Document marked No 11) The documents marked No 12 (7 in number) are in the handwriting of Mr Harper, which Lieut Harper himself. The copy of the article headed 'further developement' which appeared in No 1 of the present volume of the 'St Jo. News' is in the handwriting of Rockwell. Could not say he knew who was the author; could not give an opinion on the subject (Docum't No 13). The article which appeared in No 3 of the 'St Jo News' Nov 16 and headed 'Aaron Barnard — Dr Judd' was compared by Rockwell, Watkins saw him while engaged on it. (Doc't No 14). The short account of the British schooner 'Amelia' which appeared in No 52 Oct 26 was in the handwriting of Consul General Miller (Document No 15). The copy of the 1st leading article in No 1 of the present volume was in the handwriting of Rockwell, witness sent him writing it, but cannot say whether he was copying from another document or not. Could not say whether he had any other document before him at the time or not. The copy of the letter signed Homer Lockwork and W.H. Palmer which appeared in No 51 of Oct 19 was in the handwriting of Consul Genl. Miller (Doct No 16). An article headed 'Mutiny and horrible massacre at Sea' was set up from copy not in the handwriting of Consul General Miller, but corrected by him. It was published in No 51, Oct 19 (Doc No 17).

The copy of the article beginning 'And when Haman' etc published in No 2 of Nov 9th is in the handwriting of Jno Mann, but from Mr Rudsworth, the Consul General's clerk, having asked whether the article was going in, with[s] supposed that possibly Lieut General Miller had something to do with it. (Doct No 18) The document destroyed by with[s] as appears in his affidavit were principally extracts and other matters of no consequence. Mr Mann, Mr Rockwell, Mr Hooper, Lieut Miller, (so far as the memoranda herein[?]) Mr Robertson (as regards the articles already produced) and Mr Palmer are all he can recollect of those who write for the 'News' at present, so whom he knows to write for that paper. Mr Allen read a proof one day and Jno Mann has occasionally done so, those are all who have done so to his recollection who are not connected with the office. About the 2d of Oct last Mr Rockwell came into the office and seemed to be in a very good humor; witness asked him the cause of it; he answered he would make three thousand dollars clear this year; witness asked, how? he said because the paper was to be the organ of the three powers, British, French and American. Prior to this he had told witness that Mr Dillon had had a meeting with the French residents to support the paper. That Canaveuse was to take so many, the French Hotels so many, and Dillon himself was to take 10 or 12 copies. Consul Genl Miller takes 6 copies; Mr Lee Syfer takes 10 or 12 copies. Mr Lee Syfer got 25 subscribers in California as witness understood. Does not know whether they take the 'Polyxedian'. Has never doubted but that the representatives of those three powers are combined to sustain and support the 'News'. Their papers are sent to them direct. Previous to furnishing the manuscript to Mr Judd, Rockwell told witness he had some suspicion there was going to be a libel suit commenced against him, and said, 'let them go ahead' or something to that effect, 'there were plenty of people here would see him out of it, and if they did commence a libel suit Mr Lee Hyde would defend him'. Mr Lee Hyde has frequently been there and had conversations with Munn and Rockwell; they never talked in witness' presence. Mr Lee Hyde was the only one who had such conversations that witnes recollected. Rockwell had previously asked witnes to remain here till about the 1st. of Jan.y and then he would pay his passage to California for him. Witnes went into the country and received a letter from a friend that he must come to town immediately if he wanted to save his character; he came up immediately. As soon as he arrived he was served with a warrant of arrest by Mr. Hobbs for stealing manuscripts. Jane bail for his appearance at the police Court in the morning. Afterwards received word that Mr. Munn wanted to see him at his house that evening. This was the 5th. of Dec.r. Witnes went to Munns at 7 o'clock.

Munn said he had nothing to fear, that they would do him all right and Rockwell would withdraw the suit.

Then he asked witness to go with him to Mr Ivy Wells house, taking along with them a young man called Derby.
Mr Ivy told witness to take a seat. He got some paper and told witness he wanted him to state all he knew about the affair.
He took down witness' deposition, next morning at 9 o'clock
witness appeared at the Police Court. Rockwell then withdrew the suit and witness swore to the deposition. The copy sworn to by witness was in Derby's hand writing; witness made some corrections before signing
it. Mr Ivy Wells did not urge him to state anything and witness was not offered any remuneration if he would state so and so.
Mr Ivy Wells said he knew the letter that was meant but they would let [illegible] as regarded it being his. By they he perhaps meant government. Has set up nothing in the 'News' office since he made his deposition, excepting his own notice of being about to leave the King Dora. Has his meals sent to him at present to his own house, and pays himself. Has received no pecuniary assistance or any kind of remuneration from the 'St Jo. News' office. They paid him up to the day he left at the rate of $18 per week. Could not say who were the proprietors of the 'News' press. Many of the parties interested gave up their shares in favor of Rockwell; he owns about $350 or $400 worth of materials. Does not know who owns the rest: thinks Mr Reynolds and Strong own a part, also Mr

Webster and Mr Munn. Has never seen a meeting of the proprietors since Rockwell has been there. Has heard both Rockwell and Munn say that the former owes the latter. Munn told witness one day it amounted to as much as $400. If Rockwell were interrogated on oath he might tell who the parties were whose [illegible]. Does not think from what he has positively known Rockwell to write, that he could have written such articles as the leaders in Nos 1, 2 and 3 of the present volume of the 'Dartmouth Island News'. Some time ago two men came at different times and said they would pay witness almost any thing for a copy of Pelly's pamphlet - the parties were Reynolds and Captain Carter who offered to pay; this was while witness was at work in the Polynesian office. Heard afterwards that Consul General Miller had procured a copy by paying for it. Heard at one time a talk in the office that Genl Miller wanted to get some manuscripts out of the office. This was about Nov 2 1895.

Mr Wyllie mentioned Mr Dillon who had behaved in a very improper way not only in regard to the King himself, but to most of his foreign officers: he was, in Mr Wyllie's opinion a hypocritical man and highly inconsistent.

Mr Wyllie then read a summary of the political offences committed by Mr. Dillon.

Mr Lee thought it would be well to refer the questions in dispute to the French Government through some proper person: perhaps Mr James Jackson James, who could perhaps call on the Secretary of State in Washington and procure his assistance.

Mr Wyllie read part of a letter (private) received from Mr James and dated 1st Nov. 1848, together with an account of his interview with Mr Buchanan in Washington.

Mr Lee moved the following four resolutions which were seconded and carried.

Whereas M. Dillon the Consul of France has seen fit to impugn the policy of the King's motives in the appointment of his Ministers of Public Instruction and in other ways to insult His Majesty. And whereas he has in the most unjust manner attacked the King's Ministers and in various ways intermeddled with the internal policy and administration of this govt. And whereas previous to making certain unjust demands against the Hawaiian Govt and before he could possibly know whether his demands would be complied or not, he wrote to the French Admiral in the Pacific Ocean requesting a frigate to enforce these demands not yet made. Therefore,

Be it resolved,

That the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby instructed to immediately represent the unjustifiable conduct of the Consul of France to the French Govt requesting the recall of M. Dillon and the appointment of some person to fill his place, who will cultivate those friendly relations between France and the Hawaiian Islands which shd ever exist

2. Resolved, That the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby further instructed to prepare at his earliest convenience, a Letter to the Min. of For. Affairs for the Republic of France, setting forth in a concise manner the facts and reasons which have induced the King to solicit the recall of M. Dillon which Letter shall be immediately forwarded.

3. Resolved. That the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby instructed to cease all further correspondence with the Consul of France in relation to all complaints and controversies now existing between him and the Hawaiian Govt and to notify Mr Dillon that all future correspondence on those subjects will be transferred from him directly to the Minister of Foreign affairs of the French Republic, but that communications in regard to new cases of complaints will be respectfully attended to by the Minister of For. Rel. as the only medium of communication between this Govt. and all foreign Agents, on all questions that can properly be considered diplomatic.

4. Resolved, That the Letter to the Min. of For. Affairs of the Republic of France, contemplated in the 2nd Resolution, embody in substance the written grounds of removal this day laid before His Majesty — by Mr. Wyllie.

5. Resolved, That taking into consideration the knowledge, zeal and honor of James Mackenzie Esquire, he be appointed and he is hereby appointed Special Commissioner of the King to the Government of Washington to negociate a Treaty with the United States — Special Commissioner to the Court of St. James for the purpose of abrogating or modifying the VIII and VI articles of the Treaty of the 26th March 1846 and Special Commissioner to the Republic of France for the purpose of abrogating or modifying the same articles, of representing the conduct of M. Dillon and of obtaining his recall.

6. Resolved, That the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby instructed to prepare letters patent for his Majesty to sign appointing him as above, to prepare the necessary letters of credence and of instructions and to submit the same to the King and Council at a Council of Emergency to be summoned as soon as possible.

7. Resolved, That the Minister of Foreign Relations is empowered to offer to Mr. James the reimbursement of his expenses incurred during the time he may be engaged in the above services, not to exceed the sum of two dollars per day.

8. Resolved, That whereas it may so happen that Mr. James may be enabled to proceed to Europe, the Minister of Foreign Relations, be and he is hereby instructed to empower Mr. James in that case to endeavour to obtain from the [illegible] of the United States as an act of courtesy that the communications for the Governments of Great Britain and France be transmitted as a matter of favor through the Ministers of the United States residing in London and Paris.

Resolved, That the Minister of Foreign Relations is specially commanded by the King in the most emphatic terms to assure the Government of the United States, of Great Britain and of France of his Majesty's desire to cultivate the most friendly relations with each of those great and friendly nations upon the principle of perfect equality and fairness to all, and of meriting the friendly intimacy they have been pleased to express in favor of his Majesty's Independence of all Foreign Control.

The King complained very seriously of certain remarks made by Mr Armstrong, as chaplain, during the evening service of the day before, in connexion with his (the King's) private conduct. The place was an exceedingly improper one, and if those remarks were to be made at all they should have been made within this Council-chamber. Delivered where they were it required a violent struggle on his part to remain in his place and listen to them, and he wished now to complain of Mr Armstrong's conduct as strongly as it was possible for him to complain.

Mr Armstrong was very sorry if he had been out of place. It was a mistake in judgment, not a fault of the heart on his part. He had felt himself actuated by duty to allude to reports which were very generally circulated.

His Majesty further remarked that he would leave it to his Council to look into the matter, which was of such a character that he should not forget it to the day of his death. For himself he would retire.

His Majesty then withdrew.

"Paki" said he had been hurt on reading Mr Armstrong's remarks and he thought the King was hurt on account of the truth of those remarks. He was of opinion, however, that Mr Armstrong was wrong in bringing the subject forward where he did. He had spoken with the King that morning who said the Ministers and Chiefs had better put him in fault at once and bring his reign to a close.

Mr Judd made some long explanations showing how he had come into an agreement with the King to do whatever he could in His Majesty's service, if the King, on his part, did think he could, that is to say, lead a respectable life. For some time things went very well. Afterwards a bad change took place. He wrote to the King in 1846, saying that if he did not keep sober, he (Mr Judd) could not serve him. Lately he had had a conversation with the King telling him he must resign, and mentioning a time at which he should do so, unless the King reformed — and it so he would do. He thought that Mr Armstrong had perhaps done wrong in speaking as he did the evening before. The place was not a fitting one. He proposed that in condemning Mr Armstrong's course, some explanations be made with regard to the King's own conduct and it effect upon the members of his Council.

Mr Li made some long remarks and concluded by saying that the King was hurt on account of his own conduct and that Mr Armstrong was not in the wrong.

Paki made some further remarks.

Kanaina said he heard (the previous evening) observed that the King was hurt. He thought he would be angry and perhaps even take Mr Armstrong's life. He felt relieved when the King bowed to Mr Armstrong. He was of opinion that the Ministers had better take Mr Armstrong before the King and ask him to do towards him whatever he thought right to do".

Kafaalikeo had not heard the remarks in question. He thought from what he heard now that Mr Armstrong had only spoken the truth, but the King was displeased with his speaking so publicly. Mr Judd had been in the habit of speaking to the King about his conduct, but he always did it privately. Mr Armstrongs course was a new one.

Mr Coffin had never listened to any discussion in the Council with such pain. The King had perhaps done things he ought not to have done and had better not do again. He held public reproof to be the worst kind of reproof and the last likely to bring about any good end. He knew of nothing so likely to make the King abdicate and throw off all connexion with the Kingdom as reproof administered before his subjects. The existence of the government depended on the King. Were he removed a republic would follow, the chiefs would lose their rank and their lands too. Most Kings drink more or less, but he never heard of Ministers sitting in judgment upon their sovereign because he took a glass of wine. He did not think the King wanted Mr Armstrong to be punished. He thought it would be well to disapprove of Mr Armstrong's public reproof. He would add that he thought the consequences of the King's solitariness were very bad, as they would be in the case of any body else.

Mr Armstrong remarked that certain matters connected with the King's conduct had become public. He went and spoke to the King on the subject. He said he was sorry, but repeated the same acts. He thought it would do good to bring the subject into his discourse during the evening service. He did so, and may have been indiscreet in so doing. His words had had more effect than he intended. He was perfectly willing to endure any sentence that the council thought he deserved. He was willing to have his office taken from him, to be put in prison or suffer in any other way.

Kauoa had heard the discourse and was reminded by it of the time; a long while ago, when some remarks were made in a meeting house, the remarks being pointedly addressed to the King.

On that occasion Poki rose and said "the King and I shall attend no more meetings here".

Kaeo remarked it had always been the custom to speak to the king in private. Mr Armstrong was in office. Perhaps he did not consult with any of the chiefs or the propriety of bringing the matter forward in the way he had done. The King had said he would not forget it till the day of his death. They ought to seek some means of quieting his mind.

Mr Li proposed that Mr Coyle Mr Young and Mr Lido be appointed a committee to talk with the King about his conduct, and try to bring the bad part of it to an end.

Mr Coyle objected so far as he was concerned, he had not been in the habit of conversing with the King on such topics.

Mr Young had also heard the discourse and thought the King would be hurt, but this morning on seeing the King he thought he appeared as usual. He respected the King's way of bringing the subject forward. He admired him for that. Mr Armstrong was wrong, but it was not a government matter. It was of a private character.

1st Resolved That the members of the Privy Council deeply regret that the feelings of the King have been hurt by remarks upon his private conduct addressed to him personally last evening.

2nd Resolved. That the Members of this Council fully rely upon the King's sense of propriety and honor so to comport himself as to keep up the respectability of his character as a man and his dignity as a King, for the good of his subjects.

3d Resolved that the members of this Council express their hope that no occasion will hereafter occur to hurt the feelings of the King by any public remarks upon his private conduct and that the King will forget what has past.

Mr Judd and Mr Young retired to make the above resolutions known to the King who expressed himself with warmth on the occasion, saying he thought he saw a design on the part of Mr Armstrong to render his Chiefs disaffected to him individually. He would consider the matter and met his Council at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The meeting then adjourned.

Mr Young reported that His Majesty had sent for him and informed him that he had determined Mr Armstrong should leave the Govt service. If opposition was shown to this measure he (the King) would abdicate. In the mean while he had received a letter from Mr Armstrong acknowledging his fault.

Paki thought Mr Armstrong must be set aside, but the fault was not his but the King's.

Kaeo agreed in the opinion that Mr Armstrong must be removed. It was the King's prerogative to appoint and remove his Ministers. He was sorry however, for Mr Armstrong.

Mr Li said that Mr Armstrong must be removed or the King abdicate. But what was the reason of this step? A discourse by Mr Armstrong. Only those who were witnesses of the King's conduct were present. He was of opinion the King by taking the stand he did was pursuing the very means to bring all his evil courses before the public. The fault was the King's and he thought they ought not to consent to the King's wish to dismiss Armstrong.

Paki said that if the King would promise to renounce his old courses from this time forward he for one, on that condition, would agree to Mr Armstrong's dismissal.

Kanaine in a speech delivered this addressed to the King, showed the inconveniences
he expected would arise in consequence of Mr Armstrong's dismissal.

Mr Li was called upon to go and enquire of the King whether he would be satisfied if Mr Armstrong's office of Chaplain be brought to an end but

Mr Li, on returning, said he wanted the proposition to be put in writing.

Mr Boyle also was sorry for Mr Armstrong, for he assisted in getting him into office. But his duty to the Government would be mere nothing as compared with the King's dedication
He did not like the idea of troubling the King with any more formal communications. He would

go to the King to say that it is with him to appoint and dismiss his ministers, and to state also that his council would respectfully suggest that he forgive Mr Armstrong. For himself he would never go and speak to the King about his conduct so long as he fulfilled the duties imposed upon him by the constitution. Many Kings were irregular in their conduct, but they were good Sovereigns for all that. They had good ministers. In his opinion it almost amounted to high treason to speak in this council of the King's indiscretions. If the King abdicated the nation would cease to exist; the Chiefs lands would be taken away from them.

Mr Young, Mr Judd and Mr Li waited on the King according to Mr Wyllie's suggestion.

On their returning Mr

Young reported that the King had said he most understood that he was really regarded by his Council as King.

Resolved. That the King and Government duly appreciate the disposition of Rear Admiral de Tromelin to settle the existing difficulties with His Majesty's Commissioners sent on board the Gassendi. And that while the King and Government repeat their determination to adhere to the Treaty of 26th March, 1846, as it may be interpreted by the joint parties to its formation, until it be modified or superceded by a new Treaty to which France shall consent, they deplore the necessity under which the Admiral considers himself placed of pressing the King and Government to an immediate decision in regard to the sense to be given to that Treaty, and they hereby empower the Minister of Foreign Relations to make the Admiral the following propositions,

First-

First. That all pending disputes be referred to the decision of the Government of France in concert with the Kings special Plenipotentiary; and, in case of a non-agreement upon any point, to the final award of any friendly Power, to be named by France hereby; the Hawaiian Government pledging the Kings faith and the National Revenues, and, if required the further guarrantee of some friendly power to abide by, and carry out all the provisions of such decision and award.

Secondly. That if the Admiral agree to this, a contract to the above effect be drawn up and signed by him and the Kings Commissioners.

Thirdly. That having made these proposals, the King of the Hawaiian Islands solemnly declares that he has done all in his power, and all that under the Law of Nations, and existing engagements with France, can be justly required of him, as necessary to satisfy the honour of France, and of the Admiral; and that after this offer, securing and guaranteeing the most ample reparation upon all points, as France herself, or the umpire of her own choice, may pronounce just, the King believes that all just cause for War or even reprisals, under the Law of Nations, is entirely removed.

in view of the peremptory demands of the Admiral and Consul of France, and that a copy of this resolution be passed officially by the Minister of Foreign Relations to her Britannic Majesty's Consul General and be printed.

Mr Wyllie submitted Mr Turrill's letter of the 25th August, which was interpreted to the king and council and the following resolution passed by unanimous acclamation.

Resolved unanimously by the king in full council, in view of the letter of the U.S. Consul of the 25th August, that the thanks of the king and government be presented to that officer for the friendly interest he has so clearly shown towards procuring the friendly mediation of the president of the U.S, as may be necessary, with the government of France and warding off from the king the danger to his Majesty's independence and to neutral interests, arising out of the unreasonable and unjust demands made on this government by the Admiral and by the Consul of France, and that a copy of this resolution be passed officially by the Minister of Foreign Relations to said Consul and be printed.

Mr Boylan then submitted his correspondence with Mr Lee about the claim of $93:50 by Victor Chancerel, paid by foreign residents and in feelings of sympathy towards this Government and of esteem to the Officers of H.B.M. ship 'Amphitrite'

Resolved by the King in full council that the thanks of the King's Government be given to Henry Lee Esquire and to the gentlemen who by voluntary subscriptions in token of their good feeling towards this Government, paid off the full ~~demand~~ amount of the claim of Victor Chancerel against some of the crew of H.B.M. ship 'Amphitrite', which the Admiral and the Consul of France, contrary to all right and reason, sought to enforce against this Government and that this resolution be printed.

Mr Wyllie translated and read only before the King and Council Dillons note of the 4th dated 4th this subject the following resolutions were passed and. But Wyllie drafted a letter which was approved of and that Resolved. That the Board of Foreign Relations be instructed to reply to Dillons letter of the 4th inst. 1st That the Commissioner of United States will not be received as authorised to correct and with the Hawaiian Govt in relation to the conflicting interests of France and, 2nd. That should Mr Kern the Consul of Bremen not concur with Mr. Wirt, charged with watching the commercial interests France in this Kingdom either or both of the will be acceptable Government.

3rd. That this Government abide by the determination before communicated Mr. Dillon in relation the property he has abandoned.

Mr Wyllie then submitted Admiral de Dromelin's acknowledgement of the Protest and his Secretary's note.

The Committee on French Injuries submitted their report and the following resolution was passed:—

Resolved, That the report of the Committee appointed by the King to estimate the amount of damages sustained by the Hawaiian Government, through the measures adopted through the orders of the Admiral de Dromelin be accepted and approved, and that a copy of the same be furnished to the Minister of Foreign Relations, who is hereby instructed to present a claim for the amount to the Republic of France.

H. B. M's Consul General then called unofficially to see the King and offer his congratulations.

William Miller Esquire, H. B. M's Consul General, after entering the Council Chamber and making his salutes to His Majesty, observed that he came in plain dress in consequence of his not having been able to find his sword. And under all the circumstances he thought it was best to come as he did.

He came to return thanks to his Majesty and Privy Council for the very satisfactory communication he had just received. In regard to his own proceedings he had only acted in strict conformity to the spirit of his instructions, which were very clear and plain in case of circumstances occurring similar to those which had occurred. Indeed if he had done any thing else, he was sure his conduct would not have been approved of by his own government. Although his Majesty and his government had been seriously inconvenienced by the late proceedings of the French, still he could not but congratulate his Majesty upon the termination, which he thought must tend to strengthen the Hawaiian Govt. in the end. It was not for him to prejudge what view the French Govt would take of the proceedings of the French Admiral and Consul, but he could not but feel convinced that no European Govt, or any other, could sanction proceedings such as had taken place within the last few days in Honolulu. Therefore the proceedings of the French admiral and Consul being disavowed by France and ample satisfaction given, it will cease to be an act of the Govt of France. It was not an uncommon thing for officers and agents of foreign governments to commit errors of judgment and even acts of indiscretion abroad, and in those cases when the government suffering by such proceedings makes its complaint and the proceedings of such officers or agents are disavowed and reparation made, then it ceases to be a case of complaint against the Govt. He did not remember that he had anything more to say, but he would observe however that he thought the admirable course pursued by His Majesty in remaining in his palace with the standard flying, and also that pursued by his Govt in observing that passive position and manifestly avoiding any conduct towards the French that might provoke them. not only discard great praise, but would create a favorable feeling in England and elsewhere when they came to be heard of. But in fact it had been the most effectual opposition that could be offered. He would not occupy His Majesty's time any longer with further remarks.

His Majesty replied that there had been but one opinion entertained by himself and his officers, which was that he could not consent to the demands of the French, and his policy had been to simply confine himself to not acceding to those demands.

H. B. M. Consul General added that he should endeavor to induce his Govt to take such proceedings as might seem proper under the circumstances, and for his own part should exert himself to render fair and proper accounts of these extraordinary proceedings. What his reports were he should make known to his Majesty's Govt., as his ministers knew in part what he had already done. He would mention one circumstance which was that notwithstanding all the differences which once existed between himself and this Majesty's Govt., and all difficulties, the tenor of his instructions all through had been that England must uphold the independence of that Govt. He would no longer encroach upon his Majesty's time.

As the Consul General withdrew, His Majesty remarked to him that he had omitted to offer his thanks to the Consul General for his powerful protection in case of his being in any personal danger from the French troops.

The Consul General then took his departure.

His Majesty stated that the question of recovering damages of the French Govt must now be taken up. The amount to be claimed had been ascertained. He thought it would be best to send a minister or ministers to make the demand. In Captain Bruce's case a simple appeal proved of no use. He thought Mr Ladd was the best man they could select for this important mission.

Mr Ladd said he had no wish to leave the country or the office he held under Government. But this was a case of difficulty and he would consent to go, but he hoped the Government would take care of his family during his absence and also pay his own expenses. He also wished the King to appoint as his locum tenens in the Treasury the person whom he might himself select.

It was passed unanimously that these things suggested by Mr. Judd be acceded to.

Whereas His Majesty the King has declared that it is his wish that Mr. Judd should be appointed a Special Commissioner to proceed to France, England and the United States, to negociate a new Treaty, prefer a claim for reparation of the damages sustained by this Govt. by the recent acts of Rear Admiral de Tromelin, and better secure the Independence of the Hawaiian Islands —

Resolved, That the Privy Council concur in the suggestions of his Majesty and would cordially approve of the appointment of a special commissioner to cooperate with Mr Jarvis now in the United States, in establishing the independence of this government and negociating a new Treaty and preserving a claim for damages for the recent hostile measures of Admiral de Tromelin, but to be clothed with the powers of a Minister Plenipotentiary.

Resolved, That in accordance with the suggestion of his Majesty, the Privy Council would cordially approve of G. P. Judd as such special Minister Plenipotentiary.

A conversation then took place with regard to sending the young Chiefs Lot and Alexander with Mr Judd, at the Govt expense, to remain after his return or come back with him as circumstances might hereafter indicate.

Resolved, That Lot and Alexander leave this place in company with Mr Judd for American England and France, the Govt paying the expenses.

Resolved. That the six guns taken out of the Kaimhamaha be carried to the Fort on Puawaina

Resolved. That the Powder Magazine and Prisons in the Fort be repaired, they having been damaged lately by the French troops, also the house formerly occupied by Mr Goodrich.

Mr Wyllie made known to His Majesty certain particulars that had come to his knowledge connected with the feeling in California in regard to the proceedings of the French and other particulars in relation to the differences of opinion that had existed between M. Dillon and Admiral Tromelin whilst the proceedings here were in course.

His Majesty stated that it was out of his power to pay Dr. J. C. B. Rooke his bill and requested the Government would do so. He would like his Council to appoint a committee of one to look into the matter and settle with Dr. Rooke.

Resolved. That Mr Swallowey R. C. Wyllie be appointed a committee to confer with Dr Rooke in relation to his last services as Physician to the King and his family, and to report to the Council at an adjourned meeting, at what amount and in what manner the same may be adjusted and settled.

A provisional statute authorizing the respective Governors, the Governor of Oahu exclusive, to administer the oath of allegiance to foreigners wishing to take it was proposed in accordance with a law past in Lahaina on the 31st of May 1841.

Resolved. That Mr Bates having laid upon the table his project of law upon the oath of allegiance and that in the mean while he as the Kings attorney is instructed to revise the whole of the existing enactments with a view to need legislation upon the subject, so as to guard these islands from the danger of the admission of unworthy persons to the rights of naturalization.

His Majesty introduced a petition from certain persons sentenced for killing cattle the property of Sea and Summers, denying their guilt and praying for pardon, their sentence being to pay Sea and Summer $15 : 43/100 each and work 5 years.

Mr Bates explained the circumstances under which the men were fined and declared himself fully convinced of their guilt.

Mr Wyllie saw no grounds for pardon.

The King declared his intention of not granting the prayer contained in the petition.

Mr Boyllie reported that in accordance with a resolution past at the last meeting he had communicated with Dr Rooke, and would now introduce the terms of an arrangement to which Dr Rooke had agreed to consent. Rooke had attended his Majesty and others since 1829 and furnished medicines: all that he had received in payment had been the lease of Waolani. But his services judged of by a committee of medical men would be put down at a very high rate. Mr Boyllie then read his report and the terms to which Dr Rooke would agree. He thought that if Rooke were paid $5000 in cash it would not be too much to satisfy all his just claims. The unimproved value of the land called Waolani had been estimated by Wm Paty and C. W. Vincent at $2000. He would recommend the terms agreed to by Dr Rooke as being favorable.

Resolved. That the arrangement signed by Dr Rooke now submitted by Mr Boyllie be and is hereby approved of, one the express understanding that the granting of a fee simple title to Dr. Rooke, in the terms proposed, of the land Waolani, is to cancel forever every claim that he the said Dr Rooke may have up to this date for medical attendance and medicine to the King and his family including his adopted son Alexander, to Mr Young and his family and to the high chiefs, as also to others whom Dr Rooke may up to this time have attended by order of the King, and it is further understood that all future services of Dr. Rooke are to be paid for just as if he had never made any contrary agreement with the Government.

Mr Wyllie reported that he and Mr Hopkins had not been able to see Mr Jasper, according to a request made at the termination of the last meeting, on account of his being drunk.

The general feeling was to consider the offices held by Mr Jasper to be vacant and to appoint some other person to said offices.

Mr Wyllie objected to the principle of filling offices held by parties holding office by the King's appointment and under his Royal Commission (especially in the King's absence) without previous intimation of such intentions, and proposed that as Mr Young and Mr Hopkins had not been able to see Mr Jasper, the former should address him a courteous letter.

Mr Wyllie then drafted a letter which having been approved of was signed by Mr Young.

Mr Wyllie was requested to present it personally, which he undertook to do: but on repairing to the house and not being able to see Mr Fraser he left the letter for him.

The following resolution was proposed by Mr Bates and carried by vote

Resolved. That Usher. B. Bates as the attorney of the Government is hereby instructed to bid off the Lada premises so called, this day to be sold on the mortgage to H. M. Mr Armstrong submitted details of the census taken by him, which were received and ordered to be printed with explanatory notes as might be necessary.

Mr Armstrong then submitted certain

School suggestions for the improvement of the laws in regard to schools.

It was resolved that under the exigency of Mr Jaspers absence, the Council are of opinion that the time has arrived for the Premier to act, under his powers from the King to appoint some one to do Mr Jaspers duties for him provisionally till the King's further pleasure be known.

Mr Ryckman stated that this would still leave a door open for Mr Jasper if he should be penitent and restrain himself so far as to be able to resume his duties.

Resolved, That the Minister of the Interior be authorized to remove from the Fort 3 or 4 of the iron guns damaged by the French to serve as ballast for a government vessel.

Resolved, That A. Paki's application for Kahilas in Waikiki, Oahu, be not granted at present but that the land remain in the same hands for the time being, and in case it shall hereafter be determined on by Government to dispose of Fort lands then the preference shall be given to said Paki.

Resolved. That Mr Wyllie, Govr Kekuanaoa and Mr Bates be appointed to act as such committee.

Pa "i" stated that he had received notice that the King was going to appoint or had appointed an agent, to take care of all his private lands.

Kekuanaoa objected to this; he said he would not give his consent.

Mr Armstrong said he thought the Council had nothing to do in the matter.

Mr Wyllie was of the same opinion. The Council could do nothing to curtail the King's private rights.

The King wished to hear the opinion of his foreign advisers.

Mr Bates said this was entirely a private question in which the King's right to do as he chose was undisputed. He had advised the King to appoint an agent with the approval of his Council and to put that agent under bonds. It was customary with all persons on entrusting their estates to others to take bonds. The agent should be bound down to make returns every 3 or 6 months.

Mr Boyd thought the King's lands would be well managed by the King and his agents. If any question about management should arise hereafter, the King at his pleasure could seek advice of Council. He differed from Mr Bates; it was not customary for holders of land to take bonds of their agents; corporations, etc, did so, but not individuals.

Mr Armstrong agreed with Mr Boyd. In reply to a special question put by the King it was Resolved unanimously, That the matters in regard to the King's lands and the appointment of an agent, belong entirely to the King's private right and judgment.

After a short conversation with Mr Boltis and Mr Hopkins in private his Majesty informed his Council it was not necessary for them to resolve into a Board of Finance on his business.

Lastly he introduced a letter to Mr G. M. Stanley ordering frames for the portraits of their Majesties and stating how he is to be reimbursed. This the King approved of in like manner.

Mr Bates introduced the subject of George Morgan's return to Honolulu he having been banished for five years.

Whereas George Morgan was convicted of Burglary and a penalty adjudged against him which was subsequently commuted by His Majesty to a perpetual banishment from the Hawaiian Islands and, whereas, pursuant to the said act of grace said George Morgan departed from this Kingdom, no more to return, and has since, notwithstanding the terms upon which he was pardoned, returned into the jurisdiction of His Majesty,

Resolved, That His Majesty the King of the Hawaiian Islands is hereby advised to issue his mandate to the Governor of Oahu to command the Marshal of the Hawaiian Islands, in case George Morgan, who has been convicted of Burglary by the judicial authorities of this Kingdom, can now be found within this jurisdiction, to cause him to be immediately arrested and the original sentence adjourned carried into effect.

The King was pleased to issue his mandate according to the above resolution.

The consideration of the bye-laws was then resumed and articles 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28 was passed by vote.

On the motion of Mr. Gates it was Resolved, That the bye-laws passed in detail be now adopted as a whole and to take effect one week after the same are printed and laid upon the table.

The members of the Cabinet Council, headed by His Majesty then retired and passed bye-laws for their body, which were afterwards read in the Privy Council.

The meeting then adjourned.

Mr Armstrong's House

Mr Wyllie then, requesting the absence of the King begged permission to read to the Council, the Report he had prepared in relation to the sale of the House of the late Mr. Richards, to Mr. Armstrong for $5000 The Report was carefully interpreted by Mr. Armstrong. It was as follows

May it please
Your Majesty

At the Privy Council of the 29th ultimo, the duty was imposed upon me, as one of the Committee to whom was referred the provision to be made for the widow & family of the late Your Majesty's late Minister of Public Instruction to report upon the circumstances, that have led to the sale of the House, partially erected by that late much lamented Minister, to his Successor Mr Armstrong for the sum of $5000 while it had cost $8 659 77 thus entailing on Your Majesty's Treasury an apparent loss of $3659 77 cents

In undertaking this duty I have to express my great regret at the absence of Your Majesty's Chief Justice the Honourable William Lee, who was a Member of the same Committee, and who, adding to his

Knowledge of the facts, his well established probity, & his clear judgment, might have led, upon this subject in a way more influencing & convincing than can be expected from so humble an individual as Your Majesty's Minister of Foreign Relations. Feeling as I do, strongly, upon this point, & as the question is one, not only affecting the character of your present Minister of Public Instruction, but more or less that of every member of this Council, I crave Your Majesty's gracious permission to submit this report, to Your Majesty's Chief Justice before it receive the final confirmation of Your Majesty's Council

It will be in the recollection of Your Majesty & of this Council, that Mr. S. N. Castle addressed a letter to Your Majesty on the 1st December 1847, respectfully representing to Your Majesty that the late Mr Richards had requested him, in conjunction with Mr Judd, to settle up his worldly affairs, — that Mr Judd had declined to act — that after cancelling the claims upon Mr Richard's estate, there would remain to Mr Richards & her children, only the unfinished house commenced by Mr Richards & about $500 in cash & that that house with nearly or quite sufficient materials for its completion (the window sashes being already made & the roof framed, and Verandah also, including the sum paid into Your Majesty's Treasury, for the deed of the land) had cost about $4,200, as might be seen by an account of the expenses kept by Mr Richards & completed by Mr Castle. It will also be recollected that under these circumstances, and the destitution of Mrs Richards & her Daughters, of all means adequate for their support, Mr Castle, on their behalf, concluded his statement, with a humble prayer, that Your Majesty would take into serious consideration the then destitute and distressed circumstances of that most deserving but deeply afflicted family

It pleased Your Majesty on the 2d of December 1847 to nominate a Committee, to whom was referred the above letter from Mr Castle, that Committee invited him to make specific suggestion in reply, on the 6th of September, he respectfully represented to the Committee that the late Mr Richards, was by several years, the Senior Foreign Servant of the King, second to none in his entire devotion to Your Majesty's interests. That he had sacrificed himself to the cause of the Hawaiian Nation, that after 18 years of missionary Service by special request of Your Majesty's Chiefs, in the Spring of 1838, he had entered Your Majesty's Service as Political Teacher and Chaplain; that in July 1842, leaving his wife and friends he had embarked on a Mission to the Governments of Great Britain, France and the United States, which, so far as possible, had secured the Stability of Your Majesty's Government & the welfare of your Subjects, and that from that eminently successful Mission, he had returned on the 23rd of March 1845

From services so long, so varied, and so useful Mr Castle justly asserted his belief, that whatever might with propriety be asked for or received by any other Foreign Servant, might with still greater propriety be accorded to Mr Richards, his widow & children, the more especially, as from the commencement of his public services he had not received a compensation, at all commensurate with their value, & in fact, in place of endeavouring to provide for his wife and family, after the increase of his Salary (which was only from the 1st July 1846) he still avowed his intention, after providing himself with a dwelling House to devote all beyond an economical support to the good of Your Majesty's native subjects

And on the 7th December 1847, Mr Castle in a letter addressed to Mr Judd, on behalf of the bereaved widow, offered to surrender to Your Majesty's Government the house commenced by her late Husband, all the materials collected to finish it, & the title deed from your Majesty for the sum of $4,200 - that she was to be allowed to make up, that Sum to the amount of $5000, and that the Treasury was to receive that amount as a Deposit for house bearing interest from the 15th November 1847, at the rate of ten per cent per annum, payable quarterly

On the 11th December 1847, Your Majesty's Committee having all these data before them presented to Your Majesty the Report, which I beg Your Majesty's permission to read

It remains thus established that up to the date of 11th December 1847 when that Report was unanimously approved of by Your Majesty in this Council $4.200 was considered to be the true value of the House of the late Mr Richards, & all of all the materials that he had collected to complete it

Your Majesty will remember that after the lamented death of Mr Richards, a project was on several occasions brought before this Council by the Premier and Mr Judd to demolish the house entirely and to apply the materials to some other building, in a different locality, alleging that it stood in the way of extending a new street between Your Majesty's grounds, and those belonging to Washington Place; and Your Majesty will also remember, that I always objected to that project as lacerating to the feelings of Mrs Richards in her affliction, and as a waste of the public money, to make a street that would encroach upon the privacy of the ground reserved for Your Majesty's use, without being of any benefit to the public

Finally at the Privy Council of the 27th of January 1848, the following Resolution was unanimously passed Resolved that the Premier be, & he is hereby empowered to erect a Court House, suitable for all the Judges in Honolulu, and also for the Legislative Chambers, on the lot near Mr Marshall's, & to work up for that purpose the materials employed in and collected for the completion of the house belonging to the late Mrs Richards—

I would say respectfully, it is for the Minister of the Interior to explain, why that Supreme Resolution of Your Majesty's Privy Council, was not carried out, as ought to have been, unless it had been rescended, of which I have no recollection

In place of carrying out the above Resolution by referring to the account, rendered to this Council by the Registrar of Public Accounts, it will be seen that between the 2nd of January 1845 (only seven days after that Resolution and the 20th December 1848 $4,459.77 were expended in furnishing that same house, for which expenditure I am not aware that any proper authority can be shown.

On the 7th June 1848, it was unanimously resolved by your Majesty and the Members of this Council, that Wm Armstrong should have the house of the late Wm Richards for the annual rent of $500. That yearly rent at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum, is the interest of $4,116.67 cents. That therefore, and no more was the price, that the Privy Council, in its wisdom, fixed upon the house, on the 7th June 1848. But on turning to the account rendered by the Registrar of Public Accounts it will be found that besides the $4,200 its original cost as taken from Wm Richards, between the 2d of February 1848 and said date of 7th June, the sum of $2,677.97 cents had already been expended upon the house, of which no information whatever was given, at said Privy Council.

Further on referring to the Minutes of the Privy Council, I find the following Resolution, recorded without any explanations whatever, under the date of 5th May 1849. Resolved that the House now occupied by Wm Armstrong the Minister of Public Instruction, be sold him, for $5,000 he to pay $1,000 per annum till the debt be extinguished.

On the 23rd April, I had obtained Your Majesty's gracious permission, to be absent from the meetings of the Privy Council, until after I had completed the Commission Instructions &c to Wm Jarvis whose mission to the United States and Europe, had been resolved on that day. Consequently I was not present on the 5th of May 1849 when the above Resolution was passed, nor can I state whether the Members of the Privy Council concurred in that vote, with or without the knowledge that between the 7th of June 1848, & the 5th of May 1849, there had been a further expenditure upon that same house of $1,781.80 cents, thus completing the total sum above mentioned of $4,459.77 cents expended without any adequate authority that I am aware of.

If that additional circumstance was not mentioned to the Members of the Privy Council who attended the meeting of 5th May 1849, then it is clear that they voted for the sale of the house to Mr Armstrong for £800 what had cost them only £4200 in fact that the Treasury was gaining £800 by the operation, & that whereas they had agreed on the 7th June 1848, to let the house to Mr. Armstrong for £500, yearly, they were now making him a present, that let out at 12 per cent per annum would produce £600 yearly

There is no evidence whatever that Mr Armstrong himself, had any Knowledge, that the house had cost the Government any thing like £8'659/ cents nor can the slightest imputation attach to him, for any thing, he has done, or permitted to be done, in regard to that house

That the whole proceedings in regard to the house have been irregular, since the solemn Resolution of Your Majesty in Council, on the 27th January 1848, before quoted, is self apparent, but the blame of that irregularity, does not rest with Mr Armstrong, nor ought he and his family to suffer now, from its effects

Besides it is not to be forgotten that by the Resolution above quoted, the Government had contemplated, independent of Mr Armstrong, all the loss between the value of the House as it stood, when taken over from Mr Richards, and the value of the mere materials, as they might be saved, and applied elsewhere, to the Court House, & Legislative Assembly Rooms then ordered It is not to be forgotten that £5000 was perhaps the full market value on the 5th of May 1849, of the house made over to Mr Armstrong, irrespective of any sum that it might have cost. Nor is it to be forgotten that I offered Mr Skinner's House (Eden) for Government Offices at the price the house and lot cost me, and that had a high value been put to Mr Armstrong upon the house of the late Mr Richards, he would naturally have declined it, and applied to me for Eden House, which at that price is in all conscience, cheaper than Mr Richard's house was at £5000 For all these reasons I crave Your Majesty's permission to propose the following Resolutions

1 Resolved that through all the proceedings in regard to Mr Armstrong's house, since the 24th January 1847, have been irregular he is entirely free from any blame, in the matter, and that the Sale to him of the house on the 8th of may 1849 for £5000 is hereby confirmed

2 Resolved that the Registrar of the accounts is ordered to charge the £3 6s 9d cents up to the Government on that sale as per his Exhibit No 1 of 31st Dec 1849 & Profit and Loss account, recording in the Journal, a copy of these two Resolutions to explain the entry, on all time coming.

May it please Your Majesty, I cannot conclude this Report, without adverting to the fact, that Mr Armstrong for many months, declined the offer of the honourable Post of Your Majesty's Ministers of Public Instruction upon the following grounds Viz

First That having been sent out to promote religion & education among Your Majesty's subjects, he objected to apply his energies to any other object

Second That the abandonment of the Mission, and the entrance into political life, tended to discredit the Missionary body to which he properly belonged

Third That as a husband and father, it was a serious consideration, for him to sacrifice the claim that they had to a provision, by the Board, to which the length of his Missionary services entitled them

Fourth That by abandoning the Mission, he would lose a comfortable home for his family, and that he had no means to build a house for them

Mr Armstrong made other objections, but these were the chief, That he made them with great earnestness and sincerity cannot be doubted, for Your Majesty will remember, that while Mr Judd, Paki, and others, fully admitted that Mr Armstrong was the best man, for the successor of Mr Richards, they contended that it was altogether to overcome his objections & therefore proposed Mr C B Andrews

Your Majesty's Chief Justice, His Excellency Governor Kekuanaoa &c, considering that it was a matter of great importance to Your Majesty's Government, to obtain the services of the best man for so important an office, persisted in our efforts to overcome his scruples I made a representation upon the subject to the Board in the United States, as well as to several of his Missionary Brethren and I, well knowing Your Majesty's goodness of heart even went so far as to pledge my assurance, that if it should please God to remove him, soon from his family, after becoming Your Majesty's Minister of Public Instruction, Your Majesty, would make a provision for them, more than equivalent to what they, under a similar bereavement, would have enjoyed, by remaining in the Mission

Mr Armstrong at last yielded, but I must do him the justice of declaring that he was not moved thereto, by the arguments addressed to the temporal interests of his family. What in my belief, decided him, was the consideration, that in his new office, he might establish on a firm basis, the general education and morality of Your Majesty's native subjects, and support the great cause of religion and Christianity, holding an equal balance between Protestants and Catholics, in that Spirit of brotherly love and charity, which ought to unite all who look to Jesus, as the only Redeemer of all the fallen sons of Adam

I cannot conclude this Report, without adding that Your Majesty's former Minister of Public Instruction laid the foundation of the civilization and good civil Government of Your Majesty's Kingdom, and that he died after nineteen years of public service to Your Majesty, under circumstances of honourable poverty, of which the history of other Kingdoms affords few examples

I have no doubt if God spares his Successor Mr. Armstrong, he will most zealously and efficiently contribute to finish what Mr Richards began, so as equally to entitle his family, if God should take him away from them to a similar provision for their temporal wants, to that recommended for Mr Richards family in the Report which has been read.

Reverting to the account of the House presented by the Registrar of Public Accounts, there appears to have been expended between the 3rd of February 1848, and the 20th of December same year, upwards of £3.000 in Salvador alone. Unless these accounts have been carefully audited, it might be well to request Mr Jarrett to go carefully over them, in connection with the labour bills previously paid by the late Mr Richards, for it does seem extraordinary that £4.459.77 cents should have been required to finish a house, which was nearly completely erected, and all the materials bought and collected before he died. I remember well, that the late Mr Richards repeatedly stated that his house would cost within or very little over £5000

Mr Bates Resolutions.

Mr Bates moved the following Resolutions as amendments to those suggested by Mr Wyllie in his Report

Resolved that though the expenditures upon the house, ~~bought~~ purchased of the Representatives of the late Mr Richards, were unauthorized and contrary to the Resolution of the 2nd January 1849, the same is hereby sanctioned, and it is ordered that the difference between the debt of the Government and amount to be received for the same being £3 659 77 shall be passed to the debit of profit and Loss

Resolved that the purchase of the House By Mr Armstrong for the sum of £5000, though less than the cost of the same, was an honorable transaction and entirely approved by the Privy Council

Minutes of 15 Feby 1850

Mr Wyllie submitted the minutes of the Privy Councils of the 12th and 15th, were read in English and Mr Hopkins afterwards read them in native.

The minutes were approved

King's Birth Day

Mr Wyllie submitted certain notes, respecting the King's Birth Day, which were sanctioned & sent up to Mr Hall

Judge Andrews

Mr Wyllie reported the substance of his conversation with Judge Andrews, upon the subject of his undertaking the duties of government Interpreter, Translator & Secretary of the Privy Council

The King and Council were of opinion that Mr Hopkins should go on interpreting this day and that Mr Wyllie should be empowered to invite Mr Andrews to attend the next Council, on trial, and that if he should give satisfaction and consent to act, the terms to be offered to him, should be considered afterwards

The King then handed two sealed despatches, one from Mr Hall, with applications for loans, and Mr Jarrett's letter of 14th February, applying for the Office of Mediator.

Mr Hall's paper having been read, Mr Wyllie started a question in regard to the legality of such loans.

After some discussion the question was referred to Mr Bates as the King's Attorney, under the following Resolution Resolution.

Resolved that it be referred to Mr Bates as the Attorney of the King's Government, to report in writing at his earliest convenience upon the question, whether under the Constitution & Laws of this Kingdom, it be lawful to lend out the public monies to any parties whatever, that the consideration of Mr Hall's application for Loans, made through the Treasury Department be postponed till after the receipt of Mr Bates aforesaid Report.

Mr Wyllie. Mr Wyllie then read his [illegible] address, which Mr Hopkins carefully interpreted to the King and Chiefs

After some discussion upon the subject between the King and Chiefs, Mr Wyllie stated that as far as concerned his Department, it was quite true that Mr Jarrett had done the duties of Auditor, since the date of Paty's resignation; it appeared from Mr Jarrett's letter that he had done the duties in other cases, in regard to his general efficiency, they were all Judges of that, and even if they were not, the returns already presented by him, on various occasions, sufficiently proved it. Therefore in regard to the principle of rewarding Mr Jarrett for his extra labor he thought, no doubt could be entertained, but as to the amount of what that Remuneration should be, he would prefer having the opinion of others before stating his own

Mr Bates Mr Bates explained his views of the onerous and responsible duties performed by Mr Jarrett, and his conviction that he deserved an increase of Salary

The King, Paki, Kekuanoa and Kanaina, all expressed a strong opinion of the value of Mr Jarrett's services

After some further discussion, on motion of Paki seconded by Kanaina the following Resolution was passed:

2 Resolution. Resolved that the Salary of Mr Jarrett be raised to $2,500 from the date of 1 January 1849, in consequence of his having performed the duties of Auditor since that date. That is that besides his present Salary of $1,500, he receive the $1000 appropriated by Law to the Office of Auditor, so long as he performs the duties of the latter office.

Mr Bates. Mr Bates then read Mr French's letters to Mr Wyllie, applying for an increase of Salary, accompanied with a Statement showing, that under the present rise of prices, his present salary did not enable him to live with decency.

Mr Wyllie. Mr Wyllie then explained his views, and after some discussion, on motion of Mr Paki, seconded by Mr Kanaina the following Resolution was passed

3 Resolution Resolved, that the Salary of the Clerk of the Minister of Foreign Relations, be one thousand dollars per annum, from the date of the first of this month.

Mr Wyllie — Mr Wyllie then moved a Resolution ordering returns on Government Stores on hand

Mr Bates — Mr Bates moved an amendment carrying out the principle and improving its details in the following shape

Resolution — Resolved that the Head of each Department of this Government is hereby requested to make out an Inventory of all of the property of the Government, in its possession on the 15th day of March next adding an estimate of the value of the same on that day also an estimate of the amount of the value of the supplies that will be required and of the property that will accumulate in each Department during the ensuing year it being understood that the Treasury Department is not hereby required to reproduce the financial returns heretofore given except the balances of the same

The King — The King resolved the Board of Finance into a Privy Council

E. M. Smith — Mr Hopkins brought forward the application of W. E. M. Smith for about 60 acres of Land in Kamaaeemun Waialua, Oahu, offering $3 per acre, engaging to erect a Sugar Mill to be ready in 1857

Resolution — Resolved that Mr Smith's application be granted, on the terms that he offers

Mr Hopkins — Mr Hopkins represented that he had not been able to have the lands surveyed, that were granted to him some time ago Metcalf could not go, and meanwhile, he wished to obtain possession.

After a long discussion the following Resolution was passed

Resolution. — Resolved that the Minister of the Interior be and is hereby authorized to grant a patent in fee simple to Charles Gordon Hopkins for all the Government lands, situated and lying between, the land called respectively Kahuku and Kawela in Koolauloa, Oahu, he paying for the same the sum of $1.000 in 18 months from the date of the patent

Mr Bates. — Mr Bates said he would be prepared to submit his written opinion upon the question of law, that had been referred to him, tomorrow.

The King was pleased to order the Board of Finance to meet to morrow, at 11 A. M. to receive Mr Bate's opinion, and take into consideration the applications for Loans.

Mr Hopkins interpreted the Minutes into Hawaiian

The Minutes were approved of with the above amendment.

Mr Wyllie. — Mr Wyllie begged leave to make known to His Majesty the following news

Those in Belmore & Cryder's letter of 11th December

" " Mr Barclay's note, without date, generally the news of New Zealand papers about the conduct of the French

ditto ditto by Mr Eldridge from Lima, and the report through Mr Rothchild's Agent in San Francisco, that the French Government, disapproved, in toto, of the conduct of M Dillon, and were going to try Admiral de Tromelin by a Court Martial

Mr Bates's opinion — Mr Bates then read the opinion he had prepared upon the legal question submitted to him yesterday, which was interpreted by Mr Hopkins

To His Majesty's Privy Council.

The undersigned pursuant to the Resolution of the P. Council passed on the 28th inst: has had under consideration the question whether the Minister by and with the consent and concurrence of the Board of Finance has the power under the Statutes of this Kingdom to loan out monies that may accumulate in the Public Exchequer, and would respectfully submit the following, as his opinion

Upon a close and careful perusal of the English version of the Laws of this Kingdom I am constrained to say, I find no specific power granted any where for the loaning of the funds of the Government. The only provisions of the Statutes from which such a power may be inferred are found in Section VII page 183. Section III page 185 & Section II page 193.

The first Section to which I refer, declares "The Minister of "Finance shall be personally accountable, in virtue of his high "Commission, for the custody and safe Keeping of all the monies "paid at any time into the Exchequer from any sources of Royal "Revenue &c." It is entirely at the discretion of the Minister of Finance therefore to provide for the custody and safe keeping of all the funds that come to his charge, and I can therefore see no legal objection to his depositing them, into the hands of any party he may think proper, provided he can so - control them, as to meet any requisition for their "appropri- -ation & disbursement" pursuant to the Laws. It certainly is not the intention of the Act, granting to him the custody of the Public Funds, that he should keep and pay out the specific coin received, and in case he is always ready to meet all legal requisitions upon his Department, I find no Statutory prohibition to his disposing of the funds in his hands as he may deem proper.

Having that right, at his peril, he might negotiate for their safe custody for a fixed time, granting the use of them as a compensation for their custody. He would of make such an arrangement at his own risk of being called upon for their disbursement, before they were to be returned to him, and in case such should be the case he would make himself personally responsible for embezzlement, beyond that I do not see how he would make himself liable

Now if this proposition is true (and I see no legal objection to it) the Minister of Finance would not violate his legal duty, should he loan out the Public Funds upon time, for interest, should they be returned before they are wanted for "disbursements and appropriations pursuant to the Laws" and should he account for the interest received, I can see no moral obliquity in such a transaction.

I am therefore clearly of the opinion that the Minister of Finance, has the legal right, in his discretion, to loan the Public Funds to any person, he may deem proper subject to be held personally accountable in virtue of his high commission "for the disbursement and appropriation "thereof, pursuant to the laws"

But having the legal right, I think it would be very unwise for him under ordinary circumstances to exercise it without the concurrence of the Board of Finance

By reference to Section III page 185, to which I have above referred, it will be seen that the better to regulate, and conduct the financial operations of this Government, the Privy Council shall form and is (thereby) enacted a Board of Finance" and that "it shall be the duty of the Minister of Finance to devise "and recommend measures to be laid before the said Board"

From this provision it is to be inferred it was the intention of the Legislature to limit the powers of the Minister of Finance, (though it is not so declared) in providing for the custody and safe keeping and deposition of the Public Funds not required for immediate use, and though there is no positive enactment to the effect that the Board of Finance is to be a check upon that officer, I think a general neglect to seek the concurrence and approval of that Board, by the Financial Department, in the disposition of the surplus monies of the Government, would be unwise and in contravention of the evident design of Parliament

I should therefore recommend to the head of the Financial Department of the Government, was I consulted by him to avoid the sole responsibility, of disposing of any surplus monies accumulating in his hands, not likely soon to be required of him "pursuant to the laws," and ask the Council of the Board of Finance as provided for in Section II. page 193, to which I have referred. By such a course he would unquestionably justify any act he might perform, pursuant to the advice he would receive in relation to the "custody and safe keeping" and deposition of any monies in his hands, or in relation to any of the "duties discretionally reposed in him in matters affecting "the transactions of his Department" provided the advice he might receive would not disable him from disbursing and appropriating the funds in the Exchequer "pursuant to the laws"

Respectfully submitted

After some discussion, it was thought that the publication of the correspondence, along with Mr Wyllie's Report, was sufficient for all useful purposes, as all who felt an interest

could read it there

Dillon. Mr Wyllie, next submitted copies of the official correspondence with Mr Dillon, after the exchange of Ratifications, showing his endeavour to alter the understanding, under which the Ratifications had been exchanged & which had led to the demands which Mr. Dillon had sought to inforce.

Natives ejected from Pulaholake

Chief Justice Lee thought & the King & Council adopted the view that the bare notice given by Mr Wyllie was enough, without any formal action of the P. Council, the matter being one of private right.

Death of Wm Paty

Mr Wyllie stated that he had to perform a melancholy duty in announcing the Death of the late Wm Paty R. M. late Collector General of Customs, in San Francisco on the 14th February, of inflamation of the Lungs

Mr Wyllie submitted the Minutes of Yesterday which were interpreted, amended & approved.

Report of Committee on Mr Lee's application

Mr Wyllie, on behalf of the Committee on the case of Mr Lee's application, brought up their Report which was received & ordered to be entered on the Minutes

May it please Your Majesty

Your Committee having examined the Wharf Lot applied for, by Your Majesty's Chief Justice, Mr Lee, consider the lot, from its situation, to be very valuable. But what the precise value may be, they are unable to say. The opinion of the Governor, and Paki is strong against its sale, or being leased at any price or rent, however high, upon the ground that the Grandfather of the present King was killed there and that the locality is considered a tabooed place. Having regard to these objections to the sale or lease of the wharf applied for, Your Committee are glad to announce that Chief Justice Lee, out of respect to the feelings of the Chiefs, voluntarily, withdraws his application

Minutes of last meeting read and approved

Mr. Armstrong. While waiting for Mr. Lee, Mr. Armstrong rose & said that Dr. Judds was ~~of great use to~~ had assisted the Minister of the Interior and on leaving had requested him (Mr. Armstrong) to assist in that department and he had assisted till the present time; but efforts were needed in his own department which he explained, he therefore wished to resign so far as that was concerned; and advised that another office be created for there was a vast deal of business to be done which now belongs to Mr. Young's department.

Another Office

Mr Wyllie. Mr. Wyllie followed with remarks regretting that Mr. Armstrong should be obliged to withdraw his assistance, but still he thought that the Premier ought not to be burdened with many small affairs now laid upon him — that he had duties responsible & onerous of his own to perform Premier. The Premier approved of what Mr. Armstrong said, but requested that he would continue his assistance till his Majesty had time to consider the subject.

Armstrong. Mr. Armstrong brought forwards the subject of the division of lands among the Chiefs. He said that himself & Mr. J. Young were formerly appointed a committee to consult with the Chiefs and see what lands they wished to keep & what they would relinquish to government

Division of Lands

Business of the day, the settlement of the division of lands of Chiefs & common people.

His Majesty said, we must first define the rights of the common people.

Mr. Wyllie suggested that the Chiefs retire by themselves without the foreign members of the council and consult together what rights they would grant to the people & report in writing.

Mr. Lee explained the state of the question as he understood it

Mr. Wyllie then brought forward the following Resolution.

Res. 1.

Res. 1. Resolved; That the whole Chiefs, members of the Privy Council and the King's land agents are constituted a Committee to consider what are the rights of the natives who are Tenants to lands, under the laws, and what possessions and rights they are willing to resign, each on his own lands & such natives as having all agreed to the same to reduce the whole to writing, and after they have all signed it, to submit it to ~~his~~ the King for His Majesty's approval.

Mr. Lee moved an amendment in the form of a resolution as follows. Res. 2.

Res 2. Resolved; That the division of lands between the Government and the Chiefs proposed by the Premier and Mr. Armstrong be and is hereby confirmed: Provided, however, that the rights of the makaainanas to fire wood, timber for houses, grass for thatching, ki leaf, water for household purposes in said lands, and the privilege of making salt and taking certain fish from the seas adjoining said lands, shall be & is hereby sacredly sacredly reserved and confirmed to them for their private use but not for sale: And further provided, that all pasture and uncultivated land that shall remain after the said makaainanas shall obtain allodial titles to their portions of said lands shall belong to the lords of the land exclusively — And lastly provided, that before going for fire wood, timber for houses and grass for thatching, said Makaainanas shall give notice to the Lord of the land or his luna resident thereon

Kekauonohi objected to the amendment

King His Majesty said that he was disposed to grant to the people the rights asked for in the amendment — that a little bit of land, even with an allodial title, if they were cut off from all other privileges, would be of very little value; he was disposed, therefore to grant the request.

After a long discussion, the King and several of the Chiefs left leaving only the house, the Premier resolved

Board of Finance the Council into a Board of Finance.

Mr. Lee then brought forward the following Resolution.

Res. 3.

Res. 3. Resolved by the King in Board of Finance, that having heard what Chief Justice Lee says of the services rendered by Mr. G. M. Robertson, under the emergency of the many translations, copies &c. required by the progress of the Legislature, and what Mr. Lee says of the labor still to be performed, it is left to Chief Justice Lee to pay, in his own discretion, whatever he may find Wyllie — Mr. Wyllie rose & said, though this is the day for the Premier to bring forward business, yet he hoped the Council would continue the discussion which was commenced on Saturday last.

Paki — Paki said that his temporary commission as Chamberlain had long ago expired & he had been acting as such without authority; he now requested that his commission should be renewed or some one else appointed in his place.

It was voted therefore that the question respecting lands should be waived a little that the office of Chamberlain & His Majesty should be filled. The following resolution was carried.

Res. 1.

Resolution 1. respecting Chamberlain — Resolved, That the King having with the Premier made known to this Council His wish that Paki continue to be His Majesty's Chamberlain, the Premier is instructed to convey to His Majesty, respectfully the assurance that the Council approve of the appointment made by his Majesty.

Salary of King — Paki again said, that in former years the salary of the King was sufficient, but now it was too little; he requested therefore that a portion of what was now appropriated to the support of the King's estate, might be appropriated to his support.

Res. 2.

Res. 2. — Resolved, That the Treasury department is hereby authorized to transfer to the credit of Household expenses of His

Land Titles to Chiefs

The subject of granting allodial titles to the Chiefs and certain rights to natives was resumed.

Kekuanaoa

Governor Kekuanaoa proposed that the Government accept the division of lands proposed by the Chiefs without the question of the rights of natives entering into the calculation for the present.

Wyllie

Mr. Wyllie made some remarks at considerable length, concluding by seconding the motion of Kekuanaoa, if all parties agreed in honor to take up the question of native rights, at some future meeting.

Kekuanaoa

Governor Kekuanaoa said he thought there was a mistake. They (the Chiefs) proposed to take the whole of their lands as they now hold them in Fee Simple, and give the people their rights to fire wood etc. as specified in Mr. Lee's resolution. This he said was rights in land.

Mr. Armstrong called attention to certain disorders on the Sabbath, consisting in the Sale of Bread, Sausages, &c. &c.

The King Ordered the Minister of the Interior to admonish the Marshall.

Census.

Mr. Armstrong adverted to the progress of the Census, and that the return from Kalalaa, Island Oahu, showed from 31st. March to 1st. July, 40 deaths, and 7 births.

Capt. Naughons letter of 24th. August.

Captain Naughans letter with the complaints of the Men of the Pilot-boats was read, and instructions were given to the Governor to explain.

Powers of the Premier.

Mr. Armstrong read the draft of the Order in Council defining the duties of Mr. Young as Kuhina Nui, of which the Legislature had approved.

The english version was shewn to Mr. Bates.

Re Kuanaoa.

The Governor objected to the functions of the Premier being separated from those of Minister of the Interior, as he preferred to see him in the latter office to a Foreigner, as Foreigners did not always do what was right.

Paki. — Mr. Wyllie.

Paki was of the same opinion. Mr. Wyllie observed that they ought to have made their objections when the Act was before the Legislature, and their sanction.

John Ii. — John Ii. thought it was well that the King should have an assistant always at hand to execute His Orders when sick, or to act for Him in His absence, but he thought Mr. Young's place as Minister of the Interior could not be dispensed with.

Mr. Bates suggested certain omissions and amendments which were made.

Mr. Armstrong again read the draft as amended; it was then unanimously passed.

Mr. Wyllie said he had late advices from Mr. Jarves of a pleasing kind, respecting Mr. Judd and the Young Chiefs in the United States, but understanding that His Majesty desired to make known a message to the Council upon the land question, which had been referred to the Chiefs, he suggested, that that matter should take precedence, if His Majesty so wished.

The King stated that on the question of lands, the Chiefs had appointed John Ii to wait upon Him, with their views; that he had approved of them, in the main, but that upon certain points, he had reserved His sanction till he could confer with all the Chiefs. The Chiefs appointed Mr. Young, Kapeau and Kekuanaoa to conduct the conference with the King. After the conference they had come to the following result. Mr. Armstrong read from the Minutes of 26th August.

The minutes of the 26th August, were then read and approved.

Vote on the proposed Division of lands.

The subject of voting on the division of lands was then taken up.

Mr. Armstrong read a translation of the Kings Message of Yesterday, also the Kings Views in regard to the Seventh section of the law.

Chief Justice Lee came in, while the question of the right of way was being discussed.

The Kings explanation of the 7th Section was voted unanimously.

Then the division of Lands as recommended by the King was voted unanimously.

Resolution of the King and Chiefs, whom the King selected, and to whom the other Chiefs, communicated their Views.

Resolved that the Government shall accept the division of lands, of the Chiefs, as made by them, and those laid off for the Government shall be the Governments third of their lands;

In like manner, a third shall be taken out of the lands of all the Landlords; But, it shall be with the Privy Council to consider the wants of such Landlords as request before the division is made, that the Governments portion be relinquished to him, or some part or parts thereof, should his wants be manifest, and the division be carried out according to law.

Moreover the proposition of the King, which he inserted as the seventh clause of the law, as a rule for the claims of the common people to go to the Mountains, and the seas attached to their own particular lands exclusively, as agreed to, but the language of that clause shall be corrected.

Done by my hand this 26th. of August 1850, in the seventh year of my Reign over the Hawaiian Islands with an acknowledged independence, Translation of letter from the Chiefs' address to the King.

Gracious Father, the Sovereign whom God has placed as King over the Hawaiian Islands,

We the undersigned, salute you as your Servants with kindness; and we humbly make known our report, as those whom you Commissioned with the Great-Seal, according to law to be Your Privy Consellors in matters relating to the prosperity of your Reign.

Whereas, much time has been spent in setting a division of the lands of the Landlords, as prescribed by law, that the Governments third might be separated, and a third remain to the Landlords; But this has not passed in the Privy Council, because a new topic has been introduced, a Topic foreign to the subject, Viz that in case a fee simple title to each man who resides on the lands of the Landlords, they are still to have the right to go up for firewood and get grass, and fish in the seas of the Landlords. But such is not the law in section 6, Book 3, Page 72, of the law to organize the Judiciary of the Hawaiian Islands.

Hence, there is a difference of opinion between two parties in the Privy Council, and it has been agreed by both parties, to refer the matter to the King, and Chiefs, to enquire what will satisfy the Landlords, and the people, on all the lands, and put an end to the difference of opinion that exists.

Helen Keller as the Miss Hopkins i Ira Spalatspala nos

This Resolution was passed on the 17th½ of this Month.

On the 19th of this Month all the Chiefs met by themselves to consult as to what proposition they would make to the King, when it was Resolved, that it is agreed that a third be taken for the Government, of the lands that remain to the Landlords, and that the Minister of the Interior, grant a fee simple to the Landlords for all their lands, saying nothing about the lands that belong to the common people as their own; provided that it be done according to law. It shall remain with the King to pass it according to that which is right and proper for the promotion of harmony.

We have done, and Signed Our Names in good faith, this 19th of August 1850, in the seventh year of Your Reign as an Independent Sovereign of the Hawaiian Islands.

The

Chiefs lands. The King Ordered the matter of the Chiefs land to be taken up.

John Ii - - John Ii read a Statement of his land, and house lots, making a very liberal offer.

Mr. Wyllie. Mr. Wyllie moved that Mr. Ii's offer, which he considered, under Mr. Ii's valuable services in sundry ways, exceedingly liberal, should be accepted.

Mr. Lee. Mr. Lee thought that the Government should abandon all claim to any part of his (Mr. Ii's) lands or houses.

After some discussion, the following Resolution was passed.

1. Resolved that the Minister of the Interior is hereby authorised to grant Royal Patents to John Ii, for the Ahupua'a of Waipio, Ewa, and the ili of Pawa Waikiki, without any division or Commutation, and also for his house lot in Maemae Nuuanu Valley.

Privy Council, and that the following be the Committee, Viz.

Mr. Lee Governor Kekuanaoa and John Ii.

The King, referring to the act, defining the duties of the Chamberlain, suggested whether he should receive payment for his services.

Mr. Wyllie. Mr. Wyllie mentioned that in Monarchies it was not usual, out of the National funds to pay such high Officers of State, where duties were more honorary than of labour, and that in his opinion it would greatly detract from the honour of the office were Paki, a Chief of high rank, to do the duties for pay, and not for the honour of being the Kings High Officer of State.

The King wished a vote upon the opinion expressed by Mr. Wyllie, and having put the question, that opinion was affirmed.

Kapeau. Kapeau read a Statement shewing that his land near Mr. Judds on the Plains, had been reduced to one acre, and asking two or three more.

Kapaakea Kapaakea put in his statement in writing, proposing to take back certain lands, that he had before surrendered to the Government.

Mr. Li — Mr Li thought that the lands should not be given back.

Mr. Lee Mr Lee thought that the division should stand as formerly made, as had been the case with Kakuanaoa,

The King having reminded the Council of the original Agreement with him, on the subject, showed that to grant the Petetion would controvert the principles agreed upon.

Kanaina Kanaina spoke in favour of the Petetion.

Justice Lee — To remedy this retrograde evil, Chief Justice Lee moved the following Resolution which was passed,
